THE LOVE STORY OF NEMUNAS AND NERIS

Nemunas

Neris

Long ago, behind the big woods, two small streams flowed. They ran faster and faster until they became big rivers - Nemunas and Neris.

Once Nemunas heard that the river Neris, beautiful as a princess, flows nearby. Nemunas secretly fell in love with Neris, and Neris, hearing the most beautiful fairy tales about Nemunas, also fell in love with Nemunas.

But the angry Wind kept preventing them from merging and flowing in one stream.

Suddenly, the dark clouds, seeing how the loved ones were suffering without each other, poured down with a downpour, drop by drop, the water rose in the rivers and at Kaunas, Nemunas and Neris merged into one big river.

That's how the love of Nemunas and Neris turned into Kaunas Santaka and no one ever separated them again.
